

NTIS Code 50036

CERTIFICATE III in INVESTIGATIVE SERVICES CPP30607 (previously PSP30303)

To achieve recognition at the Certificate III level, the candidate must demonstrate competency in the twelve core units, plus three electives (total fifteen units). Up to two of the required electives may be selected from other qualifications aligned at the Certificate II, III or IV level in this Training Package or from other relevant endorsed Training Package qualifications aligned at the Certificate II, III or IV level (with a maximum of one unit from Certificate II).

CPPSEC3026A	Work effectively in the investigative services industry	Core
CPPSEC3001A	Maintain workplace safety in the security industry	Core
CPPSEC3027A	Develop investigative plan	Core
CPPSEC3029A	Provide quality investigative services to clients	Core
CPPSEC3033A	Conduct interviews and take statements	Core
CPPSEC3032A	Gather information by factual investigation	Core
CPPSEC3031A	Organise and operate a surveillance vehicle	Core
CPPSEC3030A	Conduct surveillance	Core
CPPSEC3028A	Compile investigative report	Core
CPPSEC3009A	Prepare and present evidence in court	Core
BSBFLM303C	Contribute to effective workplace relationships	Core
BSBWOR301A	Organise personal work priorities and development	Core
Elective Units		Choose any 3
CPPSEC3012A	Store and protect information	Elective
CPPSEC3034A	Operate information gathering equipment	Elective
FNSMERC304A	Locate Subjects	Elective
PSPREG401C	Exercise regulatory powers	Elective
PSPPOL404A	Support policy implementation
BSBSMB301A	Investigate micro business opportunities	Elective

RPL (Recognition of Prior Learning) unit credits are available to persons who have experience in the investigation industry or can show competency by other qualification or competency.

Note: The Certificate III in Investigative Services PRS30303 replaces the previous Certificate IV in Investigative Services PRS40498 and Certificate III in Investigative Services PRS30303. The new Certificate III is required in all states for licensing purposes and also forms part of the accreditation qualifications required by the National Body – the (Australian Institute of Private Detectives) for a person wishing to secure a National Practising Certificate. This qualification should be held by all persons involved in the Investigations process within any organisation including, fraud managers, internal investigators, section heads, field agents, investigation claims and standards monitoring officers who vet investigation related reports, OH&S Consultants who conduct Workplace Investigations, OH&S Managers & Safety Officers and so on. See also National Code of Practice for Investigators and Mercantile Agents in Australia at www.aipd.com.au

To register your interest in this course please download & complete the Online Registration Form at www.aipd.com.au

Note: Courses offered under license. All States please call : John Bracey President or Alan Crothers – Director Training / OH&S
(02) 9975-6430 M: 0408 271 934